

WHAT IS STRUCTURED WATER?

Structured water is healthy water that exhibits its full energetic potential. If you pour a gallon of water into a stream at the top of a mountain and collect it at the bottom, the water becomes transformed by the natural, repeated geometric twisting and double vortexing on its winding path. In this process the water becomes structured.

The main feature of that transformation is the addition of life force energy. Some refer to this as chi or prana. It is also referred to as biophotonic energy, which can now be precisely measured. It involves how the water molecule is changed and how the surface tension and cluster size of water molecules are reduced.

In a broad sense, the function of structured water involves cleansing, protecting and energizing life. Its mandate is to protect us from adverse elements (toxins), and enhance those things that are beneficial for life. When water is structured, harmful toxins are energetically neutralized, and the water is erased of any imprints of negative energy to which it has been exposed. Structured water is healthy, alive and full of life force energy.

When we drink structured water, we drink in the life giving properties of hydration, oxygenation, and nutrient absorption, and beautiful things happen.

HOW THE NAT DEVICES WORK

The units are designed to allow the water to structure itself. As the water dances through the units in complex vortexing patterns, it restores itself for the original mandate to protect and enhance life. The units work without filters, magnets, or electricity.

A BRIEF HISTORY . . .

Clayton M. Nolte is the inventor of the Natural Action Technologies water structuring devices. He has used his background in math and physics, and nearly 40 years of experience to understand the inner world of water, and how it affects life. With his direct involvement, a full line of innovative water structuring devices is now available.

Nolte's vision is that distributors and customers will support the NAT company mission to improve the lives of people throughout the world --- through the use of structured water. This can be done through providing information about structured water to others; continuing further exploration, and providing support in other mutual endeavors.

Structured water has the potential to change lives. We invite you to explore what it can do for you.

How does Structured Water benefit people?

- Super hydration
- Greater sense of well-being
- Increased oxygenation
- Healthier skin and hair
- Increased sense of energy
- Better memory, focus and calmness
- Increased absorption of nutrients
- Decreased need for pharmaceutical drugs

How does Structured Water benefit animals?

- Animals are calmer, more alert
- Infections and disease are lowered
- Livestock consume up to 30% less water
- Livestock mortality rates are lowered
- Growth rates are maintained while eating less

How does Structured Water benefit agriculture?

- Increased growth rate, with 20% to 40% higher bio-mass
- Increased nutrient density
- Improved resistance to pests, drought, heat, freezing
- Up to 30% less water required

NAT stands behind everything it makes.

- Lifetime Warranty
- 90-Day Money Back Guarantee
- No filters to change, no maintenance
- No electricity needed
- High quality food grade plastic inside and out
- Strong customer support and information

All water structuring units come in the Original and Dynamically Enhanced (DE) models. Both models have identical flow-form construction, but the DE units are also embedded with all-natural, energy enhancing materials. The effect is a 2 to 3 times increase in the life force energy (vitality) of the water over that of water from an original model unit.
